4. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The prior art of record, considered individually or in combination, appears to fail to fairly show or suggest a claimed invention comprising, among other things, the novel and unobvious limitation of "wherein the codec types or configurations or both that are supported directly form a first part of the list and codec types or configurations or both that is used only if the at least one transcoding is implemented form a second part of the list, wherein the first part of the list and the second part of the list are separated by a separator, the separator being a codec type," as recited in groups claims 15-20; "detecting a separator between a first part and a second part of the first or the second list, wherein the separator is a codec; comparing the first and second list; selecting a codec type or configuration or both from the first list; and selecting a codec type or configuration or both from the second list," as recited in group claims 21-28; and "wherein the comparing unit is adapted for detecting a separator separating a first part and a second part of a list of codec types or configurations or both supported by all nodes involved in coding or decoding or both of media data transferred on a respective call leg and supported by the respective terminating device, the second part comprising codec types or configurations or both that is used only if at least one transcoding is implemented in the respective call leg, and detecting if one or both of the lists do not comprise any codec type or configuration in the first part; and a selecting unit for selecting a codec type or configuration or both from the first list and the second list according to a result of the comparing step," as recited in group claims 29-32, structurally and functionally interconnected with other limitations in a manner as claimed.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
